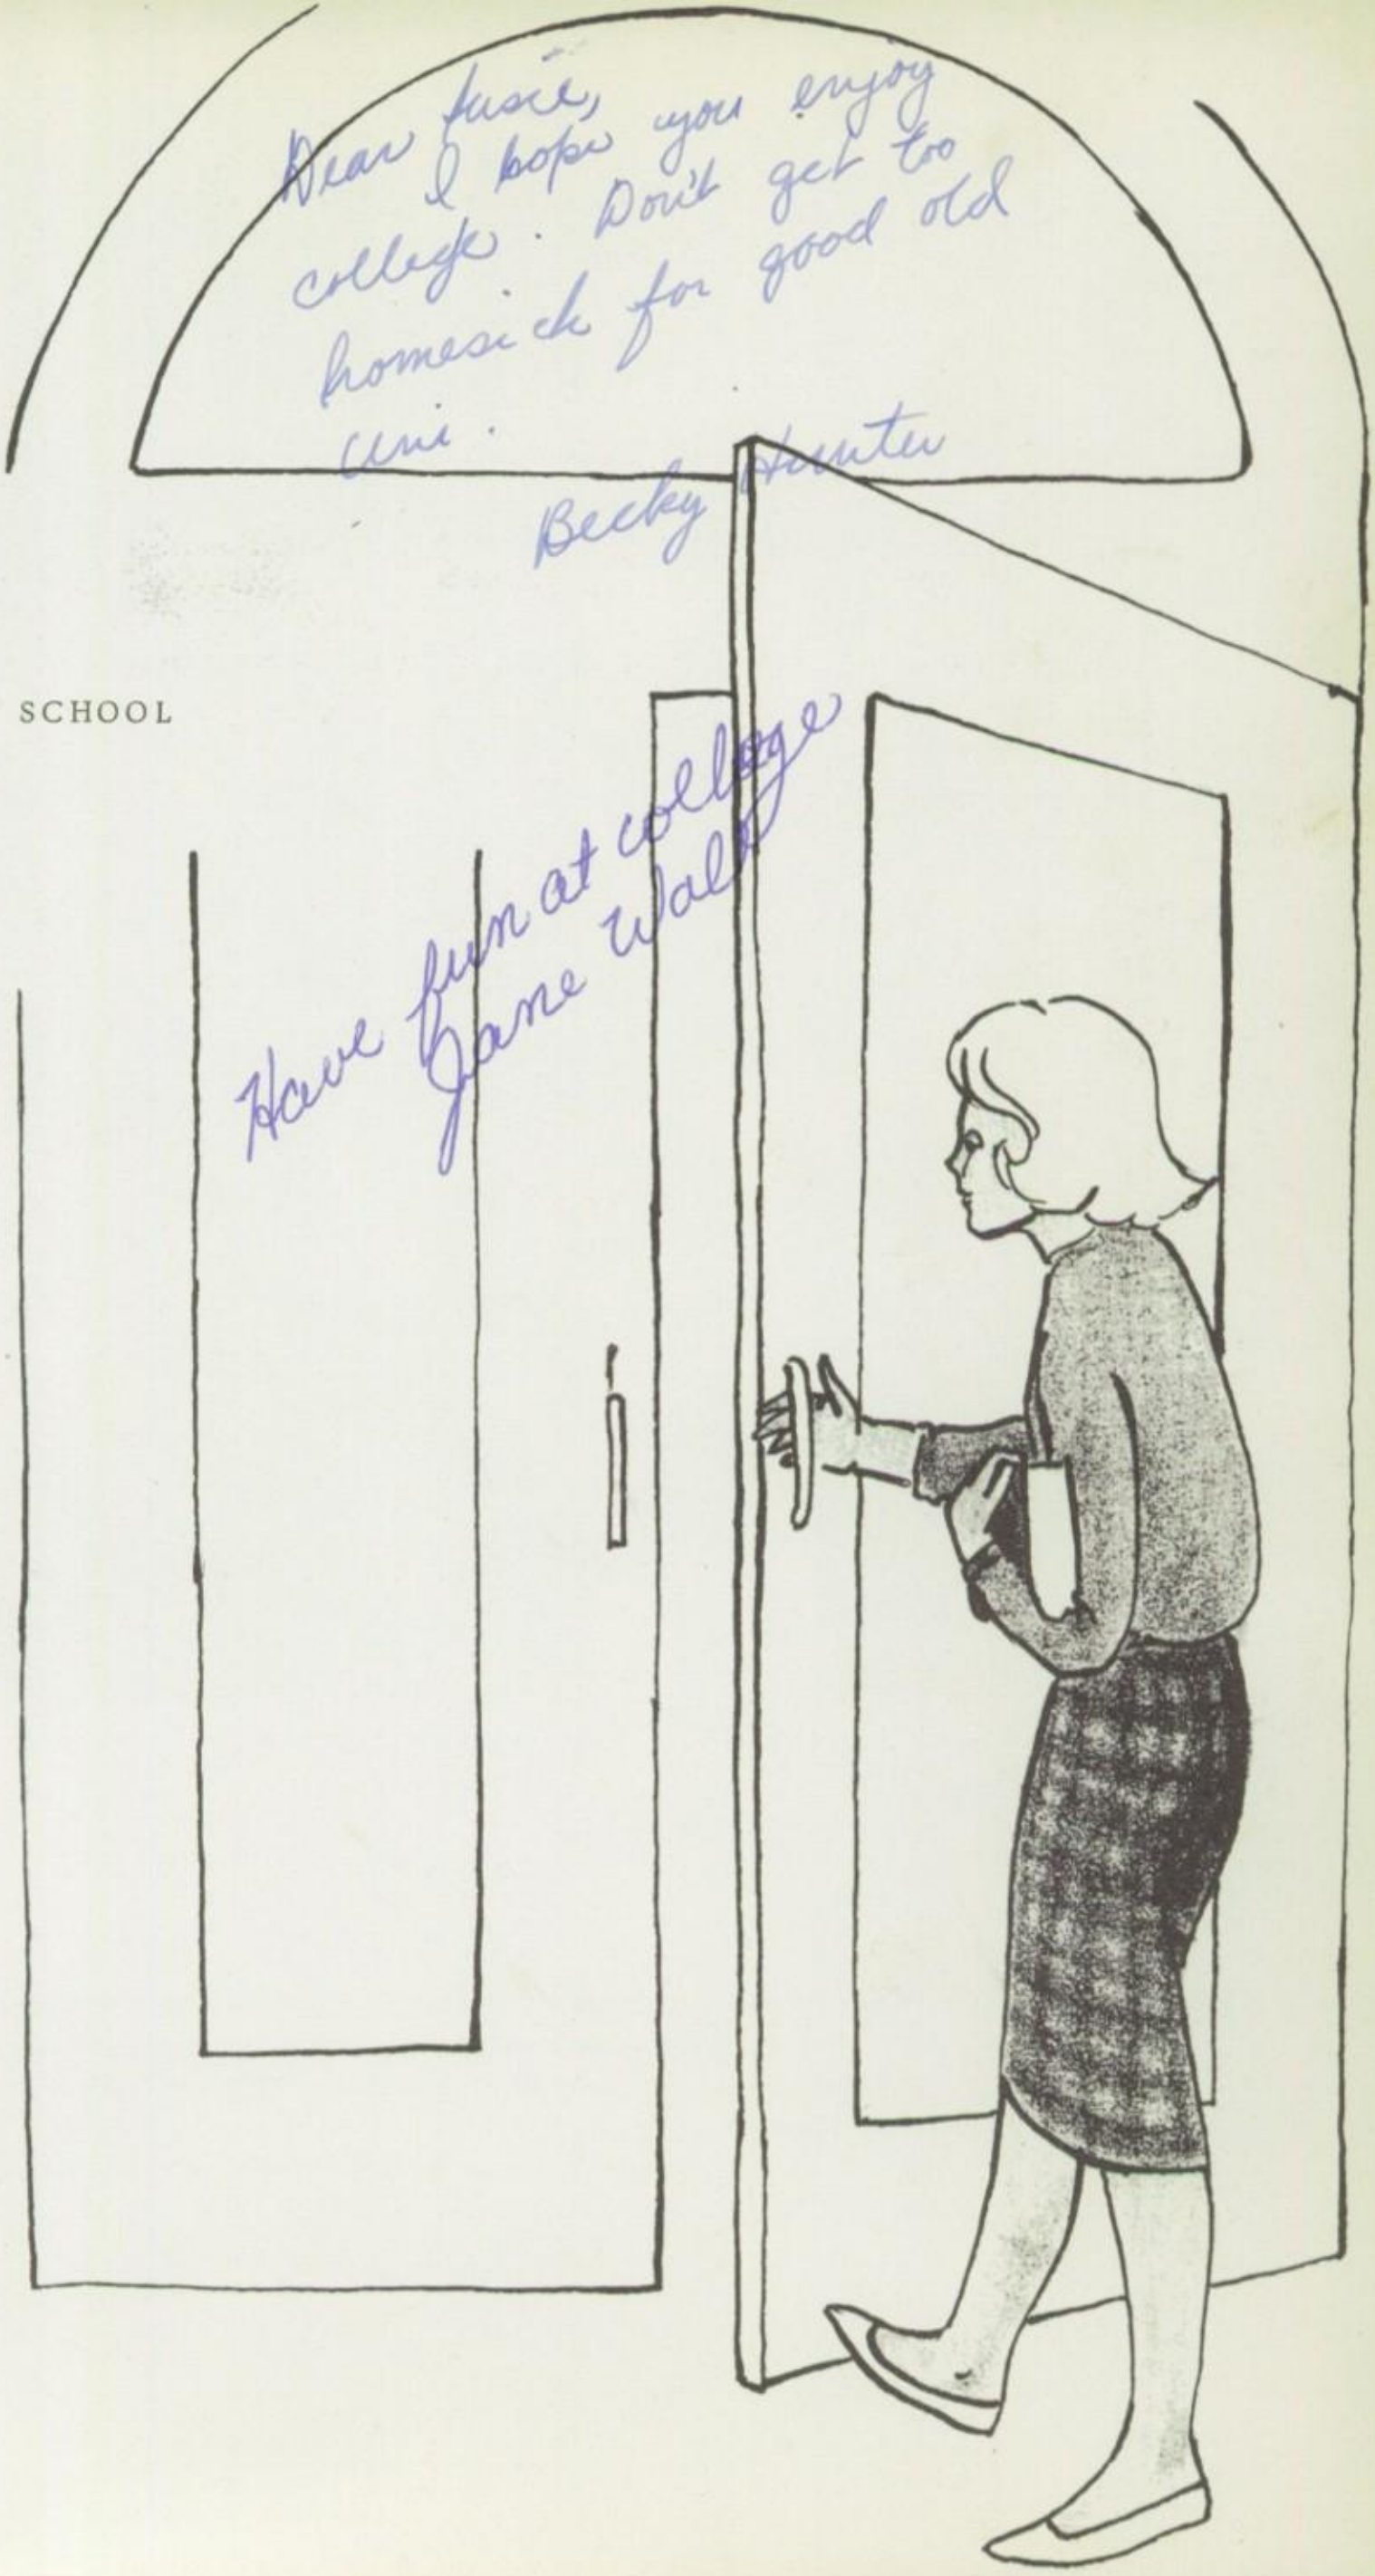
URBANA, ILLINOIS

VOLUME 40



MR. ROBERT CARLIER

We are proud to dedicate our yearbook to Coach Carlier in sincere appreciation for his guidance, understanding, fairness, and enduring patience. Taking a true interest in our activities, he has always willingly and freely given to us of his time and energy.

Coach, we thank you for being such a helpful and good friend throughout our years at Uni High.

Bill Hull

At a national meeting in Chicago in February, 1960, a high official of the Federal Government described University High School as "the center of the most exciting experimentation in education today." Other such comments from visitors from various parts of the United States and abroad indicate that we are having considerable success in our attempts to develop new practices in working with high school students.

The contributions which students themselves make to these efforts are not as well known and recognized as they deserve to be. An obvious contribution is made as students take part in classes and activities which are experimental, but an even more important contribution lies in the active exercise of the creative powers of students as they discuss their experiences with new programs. Experimentors often gain insight into the teaching and learning processes as students explain the successes they have and the difficulties they encounter in learning.

We appreciate the help we have received from the Class of 1960, and we hope that its members will continue their interest in the development of University High School.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1960, leave:

to the class of 1961, our outstanding leadership in school activities;
to the class of 1962, our unique sophistication and maturity;
to the class of 1963, our janitorial ability for their Spring Fling;
to the class of 1964, our remarkable class spirit.

I, Myla Archer, leave my swingin' beat to Tommy Kelso.
I, Tom Bestor, leave my pipe to Ray Riva.
I, Chaz Birkeland, leave my example as supercitizen of Uni to Dave Suzuki.
I, Doug Black, leave my beautiful bass quality to Robin Whitney.
I, Susie Black, leave my leadership in G.A.A. to April Smith.
I, Sandy Blaze, leave my pleasant personality to Finance Committee.
I, Jane Bonnell, leave my motherly instincts to the guidance office.
I, Dick Bourgin, leave my shy retiring ways to the sub-Freshmen boys.
I, John Burgett, leave my motocycle to Mrs. Riva.
I, Lynn Butzow, leave my tumbling ability to Jim Froehlich.
I, Susan Day, leave all of my used graph paper to U.I.C.S.M.
I, Dottie Dietz, leave on the next plane for Miami.
I, Janet Fairbanks, leave my laryngitis to Bill Hooper.
I, Mike Humphreys, leave my philosophical inclinations to Sammy Dietz.
I, Robbie Kahane, leave for the Union Building.
I, Kay Karraker, leave my cheerleading outfit to Mr. Beberman.
I, Dick Laitinen, leave my concern for humanity to Student Council.
I, Nancy Lavatelli, leave my enthusiasm to Steve Singer.
I, Judy Mann, leave my telephone number everywhere.
I, Charles Mansfield, leave my enthusiasm for homework to Scott Proctor.
I, Bill Martin, leave my free-throw trophy in the care of Miss Miller. May she continue to polish it every day.
I, Jerry Meier, leave my height to Jed Goldstein.
I, Laurie Parker, being of sound mind, leave nothing.
I, Nancy Prosser, leave my skirts to Kathy Bass. Maybe they'll fit HER!
I, Mohan Rajan, leave my American slang to Sulie Heins.
I, Ambrose Richardson, leave my erudition and esoteric knowledge to any well-qualified recipient.
I, Charles Rose, leave my cape to Dr. Jackson.
I, John Schacht, leave my leather jacket to Mr. Richey.
I, Faith Stendler, leave my love of physics to Ellie Viens.
I, Bill Stoltey, leave my sense of logic to the math department.
I, Pat Swartz, leave Miss Leppert to Bruce Smith.
I, Chris Vestling, leave the extreme right side of the car.
I, Sharon Webb, leave all of my activities to Ed Lathrope.
I, Dave Williams, leave my love of cars to Mr. Grissom.
I, Jacquie Yates, leave my golden tongue.
I, Carla Zelle, leave my beautiful, blonde tresses to Toby Goodman.

CLASS PROPHECY

John Schacht has just published his latest book, "I Was a Teen-Age Sadist."
Faith Stendler is a calm, cool, and collected brain surgeon.
Bill Stoltey is compiling a handbook of unvital statistics.
Pat Swartz is still a leader. She has been elected president of the Farmers' Grange.
Chris Vestling is a T.V. repair man.
Sharon Webb has blushed herself out of existence.
Dave Williams is running. His car broke down.
Jacquie Yates has been locked up in her room for the weekend.
Carla Zelle has just been named one of the ten best dressed women of Tolono.

CLASS HISTORY

At the age of twelve, twenty-six of us entered that ivy-covered edifice, Uni High, as starry-eyed bewildered subfreshmen. The thrill of changing classes, having lockers and taking gym was ours. Homework piled high, and with a sense of newly found importance, we took books home--two feet of them at a time. We also attended our first class dance, a memorable experience to say the least. In an effort to be grown-up, the girls donned lipstick, stockings, and a profusion of crinolines and were at their most sedate best. The boys, in contrast, kept the party lively by pushing over chairs, having coke-drinking contests, and playing catch with girls' shoes. Fortunately, the feminine attempt at sophistication lasted but a night; the girls dropped their newly-found dignity to participate once again in "Tackle Black Tom" and "Kill the Guy That's Got It" with the boys.

Suddenly we were freshmen, a curious mixture of childishness and maturity. On the one hand, we took great pleasure in switching the salt and sugar in the shakers in the Union and racing the elevators. In our more serious moods, we participated in school affairs, running (?) the student council committees and school publications with the help of the upperclassmen. And the parties! There were all kinds of them--bike rides, picnics, slumber parties, and just plain parties given whenever we felt the need to relax after our arduous labors.

By the sophomore year we were an established part of the school; we ordered our class rings, actively participated in the operetta and the plays, and gave our first all-school dance. However, we did not put away all our mischievous antics: sophomore year was the year of MAD MAGAZINE behind English books, sardines in Latin, and poker-playing with outside-reading-index-cards. In the same year a new principal descended upon the school and tried to put an end to some of our chaotic ways. The lunchroom system was introduced, but in an effort to satisfy our rebellious needs, some of us sat on the curb opposite the school, lunches spread out, to show that WE could evade the rules.

Ah, upperclassmen at last! The awkward sophomore stage was left behind. For intellectual challenge, we took tests, tests, tests, and more tests-- National Merit, Illinois State Scholarship, Junior College Boards--matching our wits against those of other students in the nation, and bringing honor and glory to Uni by our successes. The class struggled to even greater heights in its pursuit of knowledge, but added a frivolous touch by giving birthday parties in math classes. We also flocked in great numbers over to the Drivers' Licence Bureau, and the lucky ones were soon seen rodding about town.

Finally, those of us who survived the long hard climb to the top appeared in September, thirty-seven strong to form the smallest class in the school. With industrious and inquiring minds, we were ready to be seniors, to be supreme. Rightfully, we took on our role of leadership, running the Carnival and the school publications with a practiced, sophisticated touch. Our childish pranks disappeared for the most part; only once did a bench appear mysteriously on the roof and never were desks seen hurtling past windows. On this more serious note, we bid farewell to Uni, and express a fervent hope that those who remain can follow successfully in the distinguished footsteps of that noble Class of 1960.

STUDENT COUNCIL. . .

Student Council, the Student governing body, gave pupils a chance to participate in decision making. It worked actively to eliminate tuition and to obtain funds needed to carry on school activities. No longer will school functions be supported by tuition and through money raised by students in the annual carnival. The members also amended the Constitution so that the President and Vice-President of the group would be elected at large rather than chosen by the Council. Council in addition did charity work. The Care Dance was held in which over fifty dollars was raised to send supplies to countries overseas. The group sponsored the Clothing Drive to collect old clothes for the needy. Among other things, the students gave an all-school hop and helped to institute methods for supervising pupil behavior during first and seventh hours.

GARGOYLE

Gargoyle is Uni High's weekly newspaper, written, edited, and produced by a student staff. Each week, the group met to discuss business and make assignments. A rotating staff of reporters was used so that all members had a chance to do some of the writing. Reporting was done on the individual's own time; as soon as the articles were turned in, the co-editors and the page editors did copy reading, correcting, and layout. This year Gargoyle had a new, eye-catching letterhead which was a very attractive improvement. Also, a box was kept in the first floor hall making extra copies of Gargoyle available to the students during the week. Besides the mimeographed issues which came out every Wednesday, there were three printed Gargoyles, distributed at Christmas, on April Fool's Day and at Graduation.

U' N' I

Much of the work on this year's U' n' I actually began last spring when the co-editors and their associates were chosen. It continued all summer, as ads were sold and pictures were snapped everywhere. In the fall, the whole staff threw themselves into the tasks of writing copy, doing art-work, collecting photographs, working on layouts, and meeting deadlines. At the end of a busy year, with our many hours of work finished, the fun and worries over, we finally placed the completed masterpiece in the hands of the printer.

UNIQUE

Unique is Uni High's creative writing club, which met for an hour once every two weeks. Membership was greatly enlarged as it was open to the entire student body; visitors were always welcome. Students could submit their compositions for evaluation and constructive criticism by the members. Unique received a tremendous response from the student body this year, especially from the underclassmen. It published one really great anthology of student and faculty writing, instead of the four smaller issues which had been put out in the past. All of these changes made Unique more unique this year than ever before.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club met weekly to discuss various scientific problems interesting to the group as a whole. During the first semester, each member was required to plan and carry out a project in any field of science interesting to him and to report on his progress at meetings. Second semester, science club's purpose took on a new twist and primary importance was given to scientific discussions. Lectures, films, seminars conducted by the members themselves--these constituted the stimulating fare offered to our future scientists.

Terrapin, the girls' synchronized swimming club, met each Saturday morning in the English Building Pool. On Febraury 27, after many hours of rehearsal, Terrapin presented its annual show called "Terrapin Travels." The girls in the club wrote the script, directed the numbers, and designed the costumes. For the remainder of the year, the group worked on senior lifesaving skills. Try-outs for new members were in the spring.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association started off the year with a Big-Little Sister Picnic at Hessel Park. The "little sisters" were later initiated into the organization. Points were given for participation in the intramurals which were held after school on Wednesday and Friday. Each girl was required to earn a certain number of these points in order to remain in the organization. Among other G.A.A. activities this year were the sponsoring of an inter-class basketball tournament, a hop after a game, a track meet, and a spring picnic. Of course, the biggest event of the year was the annual vice-versa, the Star Dance, which was, as usual, a huge success.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis, Uni High's modern dance club, met each Monday after school under the direction of Mrs. Kriekhaus. At these meetings, the members studied dance technique and composition. The study of technique conditioned and made supple the body, and gave them skills which they were to use in their own creative dance compositions. A concert was held in April consisting of dances written and performed by the members. At the beginning of each semester, they held an open workshop; everybody was invited to come, and those interested were encouraged to become a part of the club.

CARNIVAL

In spite of a thunder storm which may have kept many people at home, this year's Carnival made more money than ever before. Decorations, however, were so elaborate and extensive that the net profit was considerably lower. The halls were decorated in keeping with the theme; a barren desert, an old Western Ghost Town and a typical Western street were among the many aspects of Western life depicted. Several new concessions were added among which was the "Beat-nik" room. People swarmed there to hear "beat" poems and esoteric music, and to drink coffee in the candlelit atmosphere. The wide variety of Western costumes worn by students and faculty also added fun and color to the Carnival. The Big Show, too, was one of the most enjoyable aspects of the evening; the wide variety of acts--from comedy and popular songs to more serious drama--had appeal for all. In general, the Carnival proved to be a very rewarding experience after a hard week of fun and work.

DEBATE

A new club was added this year to the list of extra-curricular activities at Uni High--the Debate Club--under the direction of Mr. Robinson. Already this new club has been active in the district meets in the spring where success means that one can compete on a state-wide basis. Because the club was not formed early enough in the year, it did not compete with neighboring high schools. However, the Debate Club has plans for expanding its activity in the future.

"DR. FAUSTUS"

After five weeks of strenuous rehearsal, an eager cast and a competent stage crew presented the fall play, DR. FAUSTUS, written by Christopher Marlowe. Mike Humphreys played the challenging title role, the part of a man who sold his soul to the devil in exchange for knowledge. Charles Rose and Dick Bourgin also did excellent jobs as the devil and one of his messengers. The Seven Deadly Sins were realistically portrayed as were the rest of the supporting characters. The play was directed by Mr. Robinson, Uni's new dramatic coach, and Gill Leng, his assistant director. Judging by the audiences' enthusiasm, this was a very successful play. Congratulations to the cast and the committees.

Susan:
Remember how I didn't even know you liked Steve! How fun at Mount Holyoak. You know – if I hadn't taken the initiative with Mike (actually I just wanted to be friends and I really hadn't thought of a boyfriend relationship) I'm sure he would have dated you of ten if not gone with you. He often spoke of you and how much he enjoyed talking with you. I remember some of our few conversations how impressed I was with you. Mike even remembered your prom dress at the Prom though Judy was wearing it.
Love Nancy

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

MADRIGALS

Madrigals, Uni High's most outstanding musical group, gave many fine performances again this year under the direction of Mr. Schuetz. Most of their programs consisted of madrigals, but they also added variety with folk songs, spirituals, and songs in foreign languages. Dressed in their frou-frous and seated around a candle-lit table, they performed for churches, community groups, and organizations in neighboring towns. Rehearsals were three noons a week on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. The year was highlighted by the annual reunion with past madrigal singers during Christmas vacation and a picnic during Easter vacation. The group climaxed their year with a field trip to St. Louis in the summer.

MIXED

Mixed Chorus, with about seventy-five members, is the largest musical group at Uni High. The members performed at the Christmas assembly, the Spring musical program, baccalaureate, and commencement. Many of the chorus members also participated in the Champaign County music festival in April. The chorus met each Tuesday and Thursday morning, and was directed by Mr. Schuetz.

CROSS COUNTRY

Uni High fielded one of its finest cross country squads this season. Led by Captain Dave Williams, the team posted a 2-5 record, the best achieved by any Uni High cross country squad.

Even though they were plagued with injuries during the season, this year the boys worked better than ever as a team, and came back to win two out of their last four outings.

Letters were awarded to Williams, Hall, Chapman, Wadsworth, Downs, Hull, and Caughron. Six juniors will return next year to provide Coach Keller with a promising 1960 squad.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year's cheerleaders were selected by a vote of the student body following an assembly held for those trying out to demonstrate their skills. There were four girls on each of the Junior Varsity and Varsity Squads, and this year for the first time, there were two subfreshman cheerleaders elected by the subfreshman class. In addition to giving support to the teams and leading the student body in cheering, the girls planned pep rallies and arranged rides to the out-of-town games for the other students. The school spirit was greatly improved with the help of signs posted before each game and the several new cheers and fight songs.

This season's basketball team was the best in four years, finishing the season with a 6-15 record. Uni broke into the win column with a victory over Henning, early in the season. The Blues then beat ABL and Leroy before edging St. Joe in a tightly contested game. East Lynn and Homer were the others to fall before the Buckeyes. Throughout the season, under the superb coaching of Bob Carlier, many of the boys turned in excellent individual performances. Bill Martin, with 31 and 29 points in the Tuscola and St. Joe games, Ambie Richardson with 21 points in the LeRoy game, and John Kirby and John Schacht with 17 and 16 points in the Henning game provided some of the high spots. Bill Martin captained the team, while Phil Ross and Davey Williams were managers.

Captain Martin was voted Most Valuable Player and won the Hugh F. Redden Free-Throw award. Captain of the 1960-61 team will be John Kirby. Major letters were awarded to Chapman, Hall, Kirby, Martin, Richardson, and Schacht.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity finished the season with a 5-13 record. Although the record itself is not as impressive as it might be, the boys played hard and gained experience for next year's varsity. Coach Keller usually started Charles Derber and Dick Caughron as guards, Steve Kellogg as center, John Steinbeck and Sandy McCrimmon as forwards.

Dear Susie
I hope you don't run into very many hard college. I disagreed with your

I think your picture is cute. Look for me always where ever you may be.

The U-Club held meetings to discuss the various sports events of the different seasons, and to show films of them. The highlight of the year was the sponsoring of the annual U-Club Dance.

SUB TEAM

The subs gained lots of experience in their first year of basketball at Uni. Although they failed to win any of their games, it was felt that they were one of the most entertaining teams in this area. Coach Bauer used platoon basketball which gave everyone a chance to play. Chuck Bland was voted honorary captain at the end of the season. All the boys received a badge for their participation.

SEPTEMBER

9. Upon entering this vine covered edifice, we were greeted with rows and rows of benches, dull, drab, benches, lining the halls, and rules, rules, and more rules. "Don't sit on the floor." "Don't eat here." "Wash P.E. clothes." "Go to class." "Eat Post Toasties."

11. Today we were duly oriented with the processes of running our institution of higher learning. Organizations designed to make us super-citizens of America presented skits.

12. What? No rain? Can this be a G.A.A. picnic?

19. Once again we twirled to the lilting, breezy music of the record player. Yes, it was the annual Howdy Hop. Everywhere there were boys and girls, meeting, laughing, dancing ---oh the romance of it all.

22. "Uni High strikes back!" was the slogan of the Cross Country team. Hmmmmmmmm. They lost their first meet to Cerro Gordo.

24. Whoops! This time it was to Bismark.

28. Today the Juniors tried to prove how much superior they are in the field of learning. They took the annual Junior Tests given to all their kind in Illinois.

29. What's this? Skipped again? No, today the biology classes were off for their playday. They spent the day swimming and boating in the Polywogs, playing on the swings, and, in their spare time, collecting insects.

OCTOBER

1. Congratulations to the eight new, truly talented members of Madrigals!

5. From the multitude of girls who tried out at the cheerleading assembly, eight of the most proficient were chosen to help the team win, win, win!

8,9. Teachers convened to discuss common problems--us.

10. Two plus one (Miss Leppert) went to Decatur to plan the fall YCCI meeting which will be held on December 6.

15. Toilet paper, Indian massacres, and old crepe paper. Yes, it's the carnival assembly.

24. Strains of "Mule Train" echo through the halls at the PANHANDLE PANIC, the biggest and best, best carnival ever. (CCPC thinks so anyway!)

26. "A day like all days, filled with those events which alter ....." FIRE ALARM!!!

28. The homework situation has really gotten out of hand. Teachers have been trying to prove they are smarter than we are since the Middle Ages, when they started teaching. Well, just between you and me.....

31. All Hallows Eve brings with it soap, cherry bombs, and police.

NOVEMBER

7. Crepe paper pillars, Kleenex flowers, and garden swings carried out the theme at the annual Tri-High Dance. Needless to say, it turned out rather well.

13-14. Lucifer, the Seven Deadly Sins, and Dr. Faustus were only a few of the colorful, and uh....different characters in our fall play.

13. Even with sharp-shooting, remarkable rebounding, and damaging defense, the Uni cagers lost to Brocton-Redman in their opening game.

14. The Windy City was invaded by those searchers after Truth. Yes, the A.P.S. students were on the annual field trip.

16. Mercilessly, the Progress Report Plague strikes, leaving in its wake many maimed victims.

17. Plagus Censoritiensis strikes editors and feature editors of Gargoyle. Unfortunately, the disease was fatal.

21. Cha, Cha, Cha, Uni wins at Henning!

24. Sadness strikes as the Mahomet Bulldogs solidly stomp our own Buckeyes.

We gather together to give thanks to our Pilgrim fathers who gave us democracy, foundations for freedom, and this wonderful Thanksgiving vacation.

DECEMBER

1. Oh no! We win again! This time A.B.L. goes into hysterics.

3. The faculty called off their monthly meeting. I guess they finally realized there was no hope for us.

5. So much for that winning streak.

6. Tradition is broken, no Christmas Concert.

7. Madrigals gave their first concert over a jail tonight.....I wonder if that could mean anything?

8. Joyous day! The student body shouted throughout the halls in exaltation upon learning there would be no operetta this year.

15. Tough luck, St. Joe! We win again!

16. Les Anges dans nos campagnes...Today French and German classes went carolling at the hospitals.

18. Surprise! Surprise! The faculty sure pulled one over on us today with that surprise party....

19. Alumni, and students gathered at the Tavern (in the Union) for one of the neatest dances of the whole year.

20. Umbrellas, pitchforks, sick maidens and dragons all mixed together gave us a rather different version of PATIENCE, last year's operetta.

25. Happy Birthday.

JANUARY

1. Last night was just too much. I have the feeling I'll never be the same again.

4. First sophomore boy was asked to the Star Dance today.

9. Fun time for all! College Boards.

12. Again Uni wins; this is just too good to be true.

15. Uni goes down to terrible defeat, this time at the hands of the Fisher Bunnies.

19. "Easy Game" begins the Champaign County Tournament. But, sadly enough, Uni surprises itself, and loses to Homer.

25-6-7 So! What the heck! I don't go to college!

27. As usual, the senior class comes out on top. This time they sponsor an all school party designed to help us forget the fun times we have had in the past few days.

FEBRUARY

1. Well, back to the old grind; so much for happy vacation and all that it implies.

5-6. Wonderful weekend. We lose both nights, once to Ogden and once to Tuscola.

12. Oh, goody! Progress Reports.

14. Happy Valentine's Day to all you Uni High Couples. I wish you most hearty happiness in the future.

20. The freshmen come through with a gay gala affair, the Freshmen All-School Party.

27. Wow! Wow! Wow! That's about all the senior boys say when they mention those girls in the Terrapin Show. Really, it was great.

29. Ah, my chance at last: the Star Dance. Now, all I have to do is find someone who will accept.

MARCH

2. Uni played one of its best games this year against a favored Monticello. But, sadly enough, Monticello proved to be just a little too good.

10. The talented ones got out of first and second period; State Math.

13. Happy Days are here again. What are those idiots in Princeton trying to do anyway--give us an inferiority complex with College Boards!

18. Judy Mann just informed me there are only seventy-nine days until Commencement. Personally, I wonder if it will ever come.

19. Uni Cared--to the tune of $57.46.

22. Soapbox speeches, "daily messages," and Marilyn Monroe posters all make a.... rather interesting Student Council officer campaign.

25. Miss Leppert's own private D-Day. You guessed it--our history essays were due.

28. Hooray! Finally Spring has arrived; attendance in classes goes down.

31. Play tryouts. So I'm not dramatic, but does everyone have to rub it in?

APRIL

1. Fooled you! You didn't think GARGOYLE could come out with that smashing fun and feature-filled printed issue as it did.

3. Those darned sophomores! Why do they have to be so efficient, and put on such a neat Spring Fling.

5. Class officer election results are out. My congratuations--and condolences.

8. The tattered P. E. outfits in the Lost and Found are finally being put to good use--the Clothing Drive is in full swing.

9. Track meet with Paris. We can only hope... Well, at least the Orchesis concert was nice.

14. The biology classes are off to annihilate the Chicago museums. I wonder if they'll ever let us come back.

15. It's about time we got out of school, even if it is only for four days.

17. I think the Easter Bunny has forgotten where I live.

MAY

6. " Turkey Run Invasion Day." Yup, Seniors skip again, but legally this time.

6. Y.C.C.I.--need I say more?

Well, I guess Nancy Prosser showed those nasty juniors who's boss. Class night was a regular success. (Of course, look who put it on.)

14. The fifty future Carnegies in Miss Leppert's class visited Inland Steel in Chicago today. Boy, was that bus ride fun!

12, 13, 14. The Spring Play was a howling success.

25. Am I glad the seniors aren't out there jumping high hurdles or running the mile in that girls' track meet.

27. G.A.A. held its Spring picnic. Rumor has it, they hired a witchdoctor to ward off the traditional rain. Wonder if it worked?

31. Baccalaureate. My heavens, it's for us!

JUNE

1,2 Final exams--for the first time I have a halfway excuse for not studying. I couldn't improve my 2.135 average this late, and I've been accepted at a college--must be my personality.

3. Thus we depart, with diplomas in hand, shortly to say, "I came, I saw, I conquered."

4. All of the prom-going couples were caught up in a dashing whirl of all night parties and the traditional breakfast. ("Gunsmoke" was certainly good that night--I ought to know.)

Today's teen-agers, like their sociable parents, prefer party refreshments on the lighter side. So at tonight's teen-age session, follow through in the modern manner.

Be ready with plenty of ice-cold Pepsi-Cola, the lighter Pepsi of today. Pepsi, remember, is the refreshment of the trim and smart and debonair—the up-to-date refreshment.
